Everybody Wins!

The merchant wins because they get a reliable terminal and platform loaded with time/money saving features that helps them maximize their revenue per customer when sending out text message offers.

The agent wins because happy profitable merchants don't leave and that dramatically reduces attrition.

The customer wins because they are getting offers from the merchants using Engage My Customer.

The ISO wins because all of these things mean less churn, more processing, happy merchants, and a lower overall total cost of ownership.
